The Tree of Life

The roots of the tree of life symbol reach back to the stone age. The Bible uses the tree as a figure of speech, comparing it to the human heart with arms lifted in prayer, flowing with the sap of wisdom, and fruitful in good deeds. The wisdom of God "is a true tree of life to those who lay hold of her." (Proverbs 3:18). The seven-branched candleholder of the Temple was a stylized almond tree with curving branches. Biblical tradition thus shows the tree of life as a "tree of lights".

The brightly lighted pine tree reached the United States through its German immigrants. Today it is a fully naturalized custom that combines yule tree and tree of lights at Christmas time.

Terra Sancta's original Tree-of-Life candleholder expresses the age old symbol in solid bronze enhanced with kiln-fired colors. At the top of the tree, the letters I and X ("iota-chi", the Greek initials of the name Jesus Christ) overlap as a star. The Star of Bethlehem, city of David, forms a hexagram around it. In the double triangle is found a symbol of the Trinity—Creator and Creative Word, in perfect Unity of Divine Love.

The Tree-of-Life Candleholder stands 11 inches high. A box of forty-five 4-inch candles is included.

PENDANTS

are

Personal Signs

—an affirmation of faith, proclaiming the conviction and allegiance of the wearer to the Lord of life and love, of compassion and peace.

These pendants are not conceived as amulets, good luck charms, or magical pieces.

Instead they are signs to the world, and reminders to the wearer of his or her personal commitment to hope, recalling to all that they have "put on the Lord Jesus Christ" (St. Paul), and their lives are personally marked with the sign of salvation.

Letter Openers

Letter openers are all solid bronze. Some are antiqued and polished, while others are enhanced with kiln-fired multi-colored decoration. Gift box included with all numbers.

THE DOOR SIGN

The door sign is a distinctive signal, marking the entrance of the house and reminding the family, in their daily comings and goings to consecrate all new undertakings to Christ, the gateway to the Father.
Door signs take many forms, from a simple cross sketched in chalk on the door frame, to the traditional case enclosing a scroll inscribed with the great commandment. The door knocker (see p. 24) can be a Christian door sign, and the water font at the entrance recalling Jesus' baptism in the Jordan, is also a door sign of "newness of life" for those reborn in baptism.

Solid bronze. Shown at 3/4 actual size.
Packed with nails. Explanation included.

323 The Jerusalem Cross 2.50

322 Iota-Chi—Monogram of Christ 3.00

591 Coptic Cross—"I am the way" 3.00

320 Ichthys—The Fish of the Living 3.00

Christian Witness Plaque

The two palms are as open hands raised in prayer, while the crossed stems are an X, a sign of many meanings. X is a cross, a sign of contradiction, but also of unity, of personality, a signature, and a sign of the name of God. X is the Greek letter chi, initial of XPICTOC, i.e., Christ, or Messiah, "the Anointed". And X is the Roman numeral for ten. Thus the plaque is fitting on a tenth anniversary, to mark a decade of Christian witness.

Polished oxydized bronze, with kiln-fired colors. Mounted on solid beechwood panel 6-5/8 x 5-1/2 inches. Gift boxed. No. 524 . . . 7.50

Door Signs with Scrolls

The traditional case contains a small scroll inscribed with the text: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your might." (Deut. 6) The case is usually attached to the door frame on the right side when entering.
All door signs are solid cast bronze inlaid with multicolor decoration. The scroll is included. So are two nails for affixing the case to the door frame.

Dove Candleholder for the Wedding Feast

Symbol of grace and love, the silver dove is a fitting table decoration for the marriage feast. Before the wedding party is seated, the candles are lighted in a brief ceremony. The middle candle, representing Christ, is kindled by the priest or minister who will say grace. The bride and groom then light their personal candles on either side of the Christ candle, to show he has blessed their union. Finally, the parents, or their representatives, each light one of the four candles on the wings, symbolizing the gift they make of their children to one another.

Silver plated bronze candleholder stands 12-1/4 inches high. The wing span is 16-7/8 inches across. (Candles not included). Flannel storage bag. Presentation box. No. 368...50.00
